See E.E.O.C. v. Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, 651 F.2d 277, 281 (5th Cir.1981). The First Amendment protection extends to the current dispute, which concerns the Seminary's act of terminating Patterson's employment as a tenured professor because, as we explain below, this is a matter of ecclesiastical concern.t. farrar patterson v. southwestern baptist theological seminary (07/14/93) decided: july 14, 1993. t. farrar patterson, appellantOPINION. FARRIS, Justice. T. Farrar Patterson (Patterson), appeals a summary judgment denying him recovery in his wrongful termination suit against Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary (Seminary).A letter released by Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary donors reveal the full story and makes a very plausible argument that trustees made the wrong decision in both the May 23 demotion and May 30 firing of Paige Patterson. Love him or hate him, Patterson was taken out by leftists and by, T. Farrar Patterson V. Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary.
