As a parent, you are your child's first teacher, and they should learn the earliest skills and concepts from you. This is true not just for counting, but for writing, reading and other skills, but today we will focus on numbers. Teaching children to count can be fun and easy by using simple strategies that will help your child develop a fondness for numbers. It's important for kids to know 1-10 before kindergarten, I hear (my daughter is going to kindergarten next year so I've been looking in to what they need to know!) and it's not only counting to 10, like you mention. A fun book for your young learner. Buy it here (Amazon affiliate link) <http://amzn.to/2HG3qDk>., Teach Your Child To Count To Ten.
