En rekke forslag til dagsturer i bil eller til fots er beskrevet i John og Pat Underwoods "Walking in Provence and Languedoc-Roussillon" i serien Sunflower books. Germany. Germany is the seventh largest wine producer in the world, and Europe's largest importer. Its vineyards are found along its main rivers (the Rhine, Neckar, Main, Nahe, Ahr, and Mosel) and often protected to the west by hills or mountains. I smelled it the first time at the airport after my holidays in Sardinia and I fell in love. It was a scent of summer! It's fresh, sweet but not powdery sweetness, for me smells like a herbal/ fruity tea not in the synthetic way. Kaiseki cuisine — the Japanese tradition of intricate, refined small plates — has origins that can be traced back more than seven hundred years., Hot Sun Cool Shadow Languedoc.
